HOUSE OVERRIDES HOOVER VETO OF VET BILL

Legislature to Elect Five University Regents

BOTH HOUSES MEETING IN JOINT SESSION

3 DISTRICT APPOINTMENTS, 1 MEMBERSHIP AT LARGE, 1 VACANCY

RESULTS OF THE ELECTION WILL BE ANNOUNCED LATE TODAY

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—Both houses of the state legislature met in joint session today to elect five members of the board of regents which governs the University of Minnesota's affairs.

In addition to the election, discussion among the legislators was aroused over last night's public hearing at which arguments were made for and against repeal of the state prohibition law.

Another point of discussion was proposed boxing legislation which will be considered in another public hearing tonight. Legislators from smaller cities are particularly interested in several proposed boxing bills.

Three district appointments and one membership at large to the board of regents will be filled in today's election. A fourth member will be elected to fill the unexpired term of the late L. O. Teigen of the second district.

Results of the election will be announced late today, probably about 4 P. M.

Members of the legislature have held caucuses and informal sessions this week to select candidates for regent memberships from their districts. The list of candidates who have received the endorsement of their district representatives and are therefore expected to be elected includes:

A. J. Olson, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau, who is a candidate for re-election as member-at-large. Former Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg was proposed for the position to succeed Olson but the St. Paul delegation pointed out that Kellogg's duties as a judge on the world court would prevent him from attending many sessions of the board of regents.

Dr. O. J. Hagen, Moorhead, to take the place of J. E. O. Sundberg, present representative from the ninth district on the board.

Rufus R. Rand, former commander of the Minnesota Legion, who was nominated over George H. Partridge, Minneapolis, present appointee from the tenth district. Partridge was endorsed at an informal meeting of the caucus and then yesterday the members met again and changed their decision in favor of the grandson of the founder of the Minneapolis Gas Light Company.

J. A. Coiler, Shakopee, for reappointment from the third district.

C. R. Butler, Mankato, to fill the vacancy from the second district left by the death of Teigen.

Clergyman was pitted against clergyman in the hearing on the proposal of the state referendum on prohibition in the 1932 elections. The hearing last night of the joint house and senate committees developed more into a battle for repeal of the state prohibition law and the merits of prohibition than argument on the issue of the referendum.

Father William A. Bolger, vice president of St. Thomas College, led the attack for a referendum while Rev. Roy L. Smith, pastor of Simpson Methodist Episcopal church, Minneapolis, argued against the proposal and in favor of state prohibition.

Pointing out that citizens who previously would not have violated a law now drink with freedom, Father Bolger said, "Prohibition is dead but its proponents are 'Wickersham' with the corpse and will not let us bury it."

The Minneapolis pastor pointed out the interests of public welfare demanded that prohibition be maintained in the state. He cited tests made to show that human accuracy was undermined by drinking alcohol.

Among those who spoke in favor of the referendum were Representative John J. McDonough, St. Paul, who is sponsoring the bill in the house; Dr. Helen Hughes Hiescher, Mankato, former state president of the American Legion Auxiliary, and E. G. Hall, president of the Minnesota Federation of Labor.

Mrs. Josephine Sizer, St. Paul, president of the Minnesota Women's Christian Temperance Union; Dr. John C. Acheson, president of Macalester college, and State Senator J. S. McCormack, Albert Lea, were among those who spoke against the proposal.

Several boxing bills pending before the legislature will be discussed at tonight's public hearing, which will be conducted by the house general rules committee.

One proposed bill provides for repeal of the present boxing law and two others would permit state-wide boxing, subject to local jurisdiction.

St. Paul, Feb. 26.—Three men were arrested today as leaders of a mob of 75 men who rioted and broke into the store of George Baglio on Wabasha Street in the downtown district.

Careless About Little Things, Spends Two Weeks in Jail

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—Howard Wolfe, 28, is careless about little things, including spending two weeks in jail.

Last October Wolfe was no-billed by the grand jury on charges of violating the 18th amendment. Two weeks ago his bondsman delivered Wolfe to the U. S. marshal and he was promptly jailed.

Yesterday a friend asked that Wolfe be released because there was no charge against him.

"Do you mean to say that you didn't know what the grand jury returned in October?" asked Federal Judge John R. Hazel.

"I didn't pay any attention, your honor," replied Wolfe.

SEARCHING FOR BANDITS WHO ROBBED BANKS

10 MACHINE GUN ROBBERS TOOK $10,000 FROM BURLINGTON, WIS. BANK

31 CUSTOMERS AND EMPLOYEES LINED UP AGAINST THE WALLS

Burlington, Wis., Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—No trace of the whereabouts of 10 machine gun bandits who robbed the Bank of Burlington of $10,000 in spectacular fashion had been found today.

After a thorough investigation it was estimated at least 10 men and three automobiles were used in the holdup.

The town was jammed with visitors for farmers' day when the bandits drove up within two doors of the bank. Six men entered the institution and lined up 31 customers and employees against the walls. A systematic search was conducted for currency.

In front of the bank, one machine gunner directed the stream of traffic. One man stayed with each automobile. The scheme was so bold that most bystanders believed it was pre-arranged as a part of the farmers' day entertainment. Not until Fred New, the cashier, had fired a shot at the fleeing bandits did the citizens realize what had happened.

Patrolman Charles Schenning strode by the bank while it was being robbed and didn't detect anything suspicious. After leaving with their loot, the bandits separated, each automobile taking a different route.

Police announced that at least $65,000 cash was stolen, but bank officials said the amount would not exceed $10,000.

Hebron, Neb., Feb. 26.—Search for a bandit gang which robbed the Hastings, Neb., National Bank, shot their way to freedom through a posse which surrounded them centered here today.

Robert Hendricks, Hastings, who was under suspicion as a member of the gang and was arrested, was near death from two bullet wounds.

The chase drew close last night when 10 men, under Volcott Condit, surrounded the gang in a house near Hastings. Condit was shot down as the men escaped, receiving a bullet through the side. His condition was not believed dangerous.

With Condit as he approached the Hastings house were Officers Frank Yettman and William Woods. Leaving seven of his men a short distance behind, Condit sent Yettman and Woods to the front door while he himself went to the rear entrance.

Yettman and Woods were admitted and at once covered by revolvers in the hands of the bandits. Then Condit broke through the back door, and was shot down as he stood on the threshold. Police opened fire as a bandit dragged him inside and closed the door, and it is believed those shots wounded the man known as Hendricks.

Then, using the two captured officers as shields, the bandits made their escape in two motor cars, first sending Condit staggering into the yard to tell his fellow officers that any action on their part would mean certain death for him from machine guns held by the bandits.

AUTOMATIC SPRINKLER DOUSES EMPLOYEES

Faribault, Minn., Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—Fifty water-soaked employees fled from the Faribault woolen mills building today as an automatic sprinkler system was turned on by a small blaze.

A spark, believed to have been caused when a small piece of metal fell into a wool picking machine, ignited a pile of wool and set off the sprinkler system.

More than $20,000 worth of wool was soaked by the sprinklers, but much of it will be salvaged, company officials said.

Senate Votes to Probe Rural Credits Bureau, State School Aid, State Department Education

3 INVESTIGATIONS ARE TO GET UNDER WAY VERY SOON

CHARGE MADE RURAL CREDITS BUREAU HAS $6,000,000 IN BAD LOANS

EDUCATION QUERY CENTERS ABOUT ADMINISTRATION OF SCHOOL FUNDS

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—The senate today voted investigations of the state rural credits bureau, the state school aid funds administration, and the state department of education.

A resolution introduced less than a week ago, asking that a joint senate and house committee join Gov. Floyd B. Olson's investigation of the rural credits bureau was passed and shortly afterwards approved another resolution asking the education department quiz.

Charges that the state rural credits bureau, since its organization, would cost the state $6,000,000 in bad loans, will be among the charges to be investigated. An attempt also will be made to determine the financial status of the bureau; investigate the bureau's method of handling funds; and to determine losses sustained and to be sustained by operation of the bureau.

The education inquiry will center about administration of school aid funds. It has been charged that the department administers these funds in a "dictatorial and oppressive manner" sets up requirements so difficult to comply with that the board is working a hardship on the people of the state, and that the administration of these funds has resulted in heavy tax levies.

The resolution asking the school investigation charges that the education department administers school aid funds in such a "dictatorial and oppressive" manner that a hardship is being worked on the people of the state and that has resulted in heavy tax burdens to meet requirements for school aid set up by the department.

RIOTERS MOB THE GATEWAY MARKET IN MINNEAPOLIS

HELP THEMSELVES TO FOOD, BREAK PLATE GLASS WINDOWS

STORE OFFICIAL HOLDS BACK CROWD WITH PISTOL UNTIL HE IS MURDERED

Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—Nine persons were held without charges today as being the leaders of a group of several hundred rioters who broke into the Gateway Market to help themselves to food during observance of international unemployment day.

Before police could get the throng under control they had broken plate glass windows and showcases in the store to take fruit, meat and canned goods.

Chester E. Doney, treasurer of the Gateway Market, held the rioters back with a pistol until he was mobbed and his arm wrenched and his head cut.

Police said that it was one of the worst disorders in recent years.

Warehouse Authorized at Camp Ripley

Washington, Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—Secretary of War Hurley today approved expenditure of $5,400 for construction of a warehouse at the national guard encampment at Little Falls, Minn.

8 ARRESTS AMONG TEXTILE WORKERS

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—A fight between police and union members in the local headquarters of the National Textile Workers' union resulted in eight arrests today.

The fight occurred when 15 police men headed by City Marshal Timothy J. O'Brien raided the headquarters of the communist organization while this city's 10,000 striking textile workers were preparing to participate in a peace referendum.

Washington, Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—Senate and house conferees on the revised Norris bill to abolish "lame duck" sessions of congress failed to reach agreement today, and will meet again tomorrow in an effort to adjust differences over the house amendments.

Calves Reach New Low Mark at South St. Paul

South St. Paul, Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—A drop of 50 cents per hundred pounds brought prices on calves down to a new low mark since April, 1923, in South St. Paul markets.

Good grade vealers sold at $6.50 and choice kinds cashed $8.50. Throwouts were selling at $4 to $5. Prices during the low times of March and April, 1923, ranged from $4.25 to $8.

DAISY DE VOE SEEKS RELEASE ON BAIL

Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—Daisy DeVoe, former secretary to Clara Bow, today filed with the district court of appeals an original application for release on bail pending the outcome of her appeals on her conviction of grand theft of $825 from Miss Bow.

SENATE MAY NOT ACT THIS SESSION ON JUDGESHIP

CONFIRMATION OF GUNNAR H. NORDBYE AS NEW FEDERAL JUDGE MAY BE HELD UP

SENATE JUDICIARY SUB-COMMITTEE IS CONDUCTING HEARINGS

Washington, Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—Intimation that the senate might not act this session on the nomination of Gunnar H. Nordbye to be United States district judge in Minnesota, came today as a senate judiciary sub-committee held its first hearing on the nomination.

Advocates of Nordbye's nomination, led by George B. Leonard, president of the Minneapolis Bar Association, appeared to testify today.

Chairman Blaine of the sub-committee, said he had "received a great stack of telegrams in protest against the confirmation," and intimated the hearing would be continued Saturday to give opponents of Nordbye an opportunity to testify.

"In view of the failure of the president to send in the nomination until the very last days of the session," he said, "I am not going to deprive any citizen of Minnesota an opportunity to appear at the hearings."

He said the delay "apparently was an attempt to prevent the senate from discharging its constitutional duty," and continued that "this committee is not going to be shoved over the brink."

He asked Leonard if he desired to be heard today and Leonard made a brief statement in behalf of Nordbye but said the nominee's friends would prefer to be heard after the opposition.

Blaine and Senator King, democrat, Utah, questioned the necessity of a fourth district judge in Minnesota. Senator Steiwer, republican, Oregon, said there was "congestion there but largely due to the illness of one of the judges."

"I am not convinced," Blaine said, "that any of these new courts are necessary."

"Neither am I," said King. "Judge Anderson sits alone in Indiana, a large state, and when they suggested another judge he objected. There are judges and judges."

The sub-committee adjourned until 10 A. M. Friday without acting.

Asks for Shipment of White Elephant Eggs from Detroit Zoo

Detroit, Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—Mayor Frank Murphy's ideas on zoology suffered a sudden upset today when he received a letter from Jack Lee Bauden, Dallas, Tex., requesting a shipment of white elephant eggs from the Detroit zoo.

Bauden wrote that his uncle wished to make the Dallas zoo a present of a hatching of such eggs and that he knew Detroit had some white elephants.

Mayor Murphy is writing to tell his Dallas correspondent that while Detroit has its share of a big city's "white elephants," none of them lays eggs.

LONGWORTH MAY SEE MANY EMPTY SEATS AT CAUCUS

LATTER CALLED TO RENOMINATE HIM AS SPEAKER OF HOUSE

ONE GROUP OPPOSE CAUCUS ON PRINCIPLE, ANOTHER FROM OIL PRODUCING STATES

By THOMAS L. STOKES (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 26.—Speaker Longworth may see many empty seats at tonight's republican caucus, called to renominate him for the highest post in the house.

Representatives from oil-producing states, now making a last-minute drive for oil embargo legislation, were talking today of staying away from the party meeting unless there is some indication of action during the day.

This group, numbering about 60, is in addition to that which opposes caucus on principle. None of the latter, including about 15 "insurgents" from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas and Iowa, is expected to attend.

Whether members from oil states stay away in a body depends largely upon success of the special committee delegated by Longworth to draft a compromise bill satisfactory to the oil group and New England representatives.

This will be in the nature of a protest. There is no idea of actually bolting the party on the oil issue and voting for a democrat for speaker when the election is held next December.

The real threat against Longworth's re-election—his renomination and that of Majority Floor Leader Tilson is assured—comes from the smaller group which will absent itself because it was unable to get a ruling that the meeting would not bind those who attended. This was sought in a letter-writing campaign by Rep. LaGuardia, republican, New York.

Those in sympathy with LaGuardia's efforts do not want to commit themselves in any way that would not leave them free in their campaign next session for legislation and for reforms in the house rules. Although several have announced they will support the party in organization of the new house, they do not intend to so pledge themselves in advance by voting for Longworth tonight.

ONE MINER DROWNED AT THROUP MINE NEAR SCRANTON, PA.

Scranton, Pa., Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—One miner was drowned and 20 others barely escaped a similar fate when a dynamite charge in the Underwood colliery, at Throup, near here, broke through a wall to an unused mine and released tons of water today.

The abandoned mine next to the Underwood colliery was flooded and it was believed the wall between the was of sufficient depth to be safe. The explosion, however, penetrated the earth and the miners were trapped temporarily by the inflow of water. Of the 21 underground, only Edward Curtis of Jessup failed to reach a place of safety.

BILL PROPOSES TO LIMIT OPERATIONS OF BRANCH BANKING

St. Paul, Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—A bill proposing to limit operations of branch banking was introduced in the senate today by Senator C. D. McCubrey, Moorhead, and five others.

The measure would prohibit deposits of public funds in banks having more than 25 per cent of their stock held by holding companies. Any bank desiring to receive public funds would be required to deposit with the state treasurer securities to guarantee payment of double liability on its capital stock.

The bill also would make it unlawful for any corporation to control more than 10 per cent of the capital stock of any bank or trust company.

HOOVER VETO TO CONGRESS CARRIED SPIRITED MESSAGE

PRONOUNCES MEASURE "UNWISE FROM STANDPOINT OF VETERANS THEMSELVES"

ALSO "UNWISE FROM STANDPOINT OF WELFARE OF ALL THE PEOPLE"

Washington, Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—President Hoover today vetoed the veterans loan bill and the house almost immediately passed the measure over his veto.

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 28.—President Hoover today vetoed the veterans loan bill which congress had passed.

He sent the bill back to congress with a spirited message in which he pronounced the measure "unwise from the standpoint of the veterans themselves and unwise from the standpoint of the welfare of all the people."

The message was delivered to the house of representatives where the veterans loan bill originated.

The president objected to the legislation on the ground that the treasury has insufficient funds to meet increased obligations estimated by treasury officials at a billion dollars or more. He also contended that it was unsound in principle to try to aid business by borrowing money from some of the people to give funds to those in need.

In vigorous language the executive told how the government has spent around $5,000,000,000 for veterans' relief, hospitalization and welfare since the war.

He pledged himself to continue these expenditures but protested against giving increased loan allowances as an aid in the existing economic situation.

Estimating that the measure would cost approximately an additional billion dollars, Mr. Hoover said:

"There not being a penny in the treasury to meet such a demand, the government must borrow this sum through the sale of the reserve fund securities together with further issues or we must need impose further taxation."

"The breach of fundamental principle in this proposal is the requirement of the federal government to provide an enormous sum of money to a vast majority who are able to care for themselves and who are caring for themselves."

Mr. Hoover argued that the bill confers aid not only upon the needy war veterans but also provides equal benefits "for scores of thousands of others who are holding secure positions in the federal, state and local government and in every profession and industry."

Answering the argument that by distributing hundreds of millions of dollars the government would aid business, the president said:

"We cannot further the restoration of prosperity by borrowing from some of our people, pledging the credit of all the people, to loan to some of our people who are not in need of the money. The theory of stimulation is based upon the anticipation of wasteful expenditure. It can be of no assistance in the return of real prosperity. If this argument of proponents is correct we should make government loans to the whole people."

TWO MORE BANK ROBBERIES TODAY

$8,000 TAKEN FROM SECURITY STATE BANK OF KANSAS CITY, KANSAS

Kansas City, Kansas, Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—Five daring bandits entered the Security State Bank today, forced seven employees and six customers to lie on the floor, snatched $6,500 in currency and $1,500 in Liberty bonds and escaped.

The automobile used by the bandits broke down as they fled, and they dragged a woman motorist roughly from her car and commandeered it. The bandits overlooked $4,000 in their haste.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 26.—Three men, armed with sawed-off shotguns, held up a branch of the Merchants Bank and Trust Co. here today, looted the till of $2,000 and escaped in an automobile.

Fall Creek, Wis., Feb. 26.—Bandits alarmed most of Fall Creek's residents today when they blew open the post-office safe with a heavy charge of explosive and fled with $500 in currency and stamps.

The interior of the building was wrecked. Witnesses said the bandits escaped in an automobile in the direction of Eau Claire, a few miles away.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 26.—Wheat prices crashed the Winnipeg grain exchange today and closed from 2 to 2 1/4 cents lower. October wheat underwent the greatest loss closing at 74, down 2.

SENATE MAY NOT ACT THIS SESSION ON JUDGESHIP

CONFIRMATION OF GUNNAR H. NORDBYE AS NEW FEDERAL JUDGE MAY BE HELD UP

SENATE JUDICIARY SUB-COMMITTEE IS CONDUCTING HEARINGS

Washington, Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—Intimation that the senate might not act this session on the nomination of Gunnar H. Nordbye to be United States district judge in Minnesota, came today as a senate judiciary sub-committee held its first hearing on the nomination.

Advocates of Nordbye's nomination, led by George B. Leonard, president of the Minneapolis Bar Association, appeared to testify today.

Chairman Blaine of the sub-committee, said he had "received a great stack of telegrams in protest against the confirmation," and intimated the hearing would be continued Saturday to give opponents of Nordbye an opportunity to testify.

"In view of the failure of the president to send in the nomination until the very last days of the session," he said, "I am not going to deprive any citizen of Minnesota an opportunity to appear at the hearings."

He said the delay "apparently was an attempt to prevent the senate from discharging its constitutional duty," and continued that "this committee is not going to be shoved over the brink."

He asked Leonard if he desired to be heard today and Leonard made a brief statement in behalf of Nordbye but said the nominee's friends would prefer to be heard after the opposition.

Blaine and Senator King, democrat, Utah, questioned the necessity of a fourth district judge in Minnesota. Senator Steiwer, republican, Oregon, said there was "congestion there but largely due to the illness of one of the judges."

"I am not convinced," Blaine said, "that any of these new courts are necessary."

"Neither am I," said King. "Judge Anderson sits alone in Indiana, a large state, and when they suggested another judge he objected. There are judges and judges."

The sub-committee adjourned until 10 A. M. Friday without acting.

Asks for Shipment of White Elephant Eggs from Detroit Zoo

Detroit, Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—Mayor Frank Murphy's ideas on zoology suffered a sudden upset today when he received a letter from Jack Lee Baulden, Dallas, Tex., requesting a shipment of white elephant eggs from the Detroit zoo.

Mayor Murphy is writing to tell his Dallas correspondent that while Detroit has its share of a big city's "white elephants," none of them lays eggs.

Baulden wrote that his uncle wished to make the Dallas zoo a present of a hatching of such eggs and that he knew Detroit had some white elephants.

Longworth may see many empty seats at caucus, called to renominate him for the highest post in the house.

LONGWORTH MAY SEE MANY EMPTY SEATS AT CAUCUS

LATTER CALLED TO RENOMINATE HIM AS SPEAKER OF HOUSE

ONE GROUP OPPOSE CAUCUS ON PRINCIPLE, ANOTHER FROM OIL PRODUCING STATES

By THOMAS L. STOKES (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 26.—Speaker Longworth may see many empty seats at tonight's republican caucus, called to renominate him for the highest post in the house.

Representatives from oil-producing states, now making a last-minute drive for oil embargo legislation, were talking today of staying away from the party meeting unless there is some indication of action during the day.

This group, numbering about 60, is in addition to that which opposes caucuses on principle. None of the latter, including about 15 "insurgents" from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas and Iowa, is expected to attend.

Whether members from oil states stay away in a body depends largely upon success of the special committee delegated by Longworth to draft a compromise bill satisfactory to the oil group and New England representatives.

This will be in the nature of a protest. There is no idea of actually bolting the party on the oil issue and voting for a democrat for speaker when the election is held next December.

The real threat against Longworth's re-election—his renomination and that of Majority Floor Leader Tilson is assured—comes from the smaller group which will absent itself because it was unable to get a ruling that the meeting would not bind those who attended. This was sought in a letter-writing campaign by Rep. LaGuardia, republican, New York.

Those in sympathy with LaGuardia's efforts do not want to commit themselves in any way that would not leave them free in their campaign next session for legislation and for reforms in the house rules. Although several have announced they will support the party in organization of the new house, they do not intend to so pledge themselves in advance by voting for Longworth tonight.

Advocates of Nordbye's nomination, led by George B. Leonard, president of the Minneapolis Bar Association, appeared to testify today.

Chairman Blaine of the sub-committee, said he had "received a great stack of telegrams in protest against the confirmation," and intimated the hearing would be continued Saturday to give opponents of Nordbye an opportunity to testify.

"In view of the failure of the president to send in the nomination until the very last days of the session," he said, "I am not going to deprive any citizen of Minnesota an opportunity to appear at the hearings."

He said the delay "apparently was an attempt to prevent the senate from discharging its constitutional duty," and continued that "this committee is not going to be shoved over the brink."

He asked Leonard if he desired to be heard today and Leonard made a brief statement in behalf of Nordbye but said the nominee's friends would prefer to be heard after the opposition.

"I am not convinced," Blaine said, "that any of these new courts are necessary."

"Neither am I," said King. "Judge Anderson sits alone in Indiana, a large state, and when they suggested another judge he objected. There are judges and judges."

The sub-committee adjourned until 10 A. M. Friday without acting.

BILL PROPOSES TO LIMIT OPERATIONS OF BRANCH BANKING

St. Paul, Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—A bill proposing to limit operations of branch banking was introduced in the senate today by Senator G. D. McCubrey, Moorhead, and five others.

The measure would prohibit deposits of public funds in banks having more than 25 per cent of their stock held by holding companies. Any bank desiring to receive public funds would be required to deposit with the state treasurer securities to guarantee payment of double liability on its capital stock.

The bill also would make it unlawful for any corporation to control more than 10 per cent of the capital stock of any bank or trust company.

HOOVER VETO TO CONGRESS CARRIED SPIRITED MESSAGE

PRONOUNCES MEASURE "UNWISE FROM STANDPOINT OF VETERANS THEMSELVES"

ALSO "UNWISE FROM STANDPOINT OF WELFARE OF ALL THE PEOPLE"

Washington, Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—President Hoover today vetoed the veterans loan bill and the house almost immediately passed the measure over his veto.

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 28.—President Hoover today vetoed the veterans loan bill which congress had passed.

He sent the bill back to congress with a spirited message in which he pronounced the measure "unwise from the standpoint of the veterans themselves and unwise from the standpoint of the welfare of all the people."

The message was delivered to the house of representatives where the veterans loan bill originated.

The president objected to the legislation on the ground that the treasury has insufficient funds to meet increased obligations estimated by treasury officials at a billion dollars or more. He also contended that it was unwise in principle to try to aid business by borrowing money from some of the people to give funds to those in need.

In vigorous language the executive told how the government has spent about $5,000,000,000 for veterans' relief, hospitalization and welfare since the war.

He pledged himself to continue these expenditures but protested against giving increased loan allowances as an aid in the existing economic situation. Estimating that the measure would cost approximately an additional billion dollars, Mr. Hoover said:

"There not being a penny in the treasury to meet such a demand, the government must borrow this sum through the sale of the reserve fund securities together with further issues or we must need impose further taxation."

"The breach of fundamental principle in this proposal is the requirement of the federal government to provide an enormous sum of money to a vast majority who are able to care for themselves and who are caring for themselves."

Mr. Hoover argued that the bill confers aid not only upon the needy war veterans but also provides equal benefits "for scores of thousands of others who are holding secure positions in the federal, state and local government and in every profession and industry."

Answering the argument that by distributing hundreds of millions of dollars the government would aid business, the president said:

"We cannot further the restoration of prosperity by borrowing from some of our people, pledging the credit of all the people, to loan to some of our people who are not in need of the money. The theory of stimulation is based upon the anticipation of wasteful expenditure. It can be of no assistance in the return of real prosperity. If this argument of proponents is correct we should make government loans to the whole people."

Two more bank robberies today

TWO MORE BANK ROBBERIES TODAY

$8,000 TAKEN FROM SECURITY STATE BANK OF KANSAS CITY, KANSAS

Kansas City, Kansas, Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—Five daring bandits entered the Security State Bank today, forced seven employees and six customers to lie on the floor, snatched $6,500 in currency and $1,500 in Liberty bonds and escaped.

The automobile used by the bandits broke down as they fled, and they dragged a woman motorist roughly from her car and commandeered it.

The bandits overlooked $4,000 in their haste.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 26.—Three men, armed with sawed-off shotguns, held up a branch of the Merchants Bank and Trust Co. here today, looted the till of $2,000 and escaped in an automobile.

Fall Creek, Wis., Feb. 26.—Bandits alarmed most of Fall Creek's residents today when they blew open the post-office safe with a heavy charge of explosive and fled with $500 in currency and stamps.

The interior of the building was wrecked. Witnesses said the bandits escaped in an automobile in the direction of Eau Claire, a few miles away.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 26.—Wheat prices crashed the Winnipeg grain exchange today and closed from 2 to 2 1/4 cents lower. October wheat underwent the greatest loss closing at 74, down 2.

SERVICE AND FLOAT CHARGES BY BANKS

New Plan of County Banks Concerning Checking Accounts, Float Charges Effective March 1

The banks of Crow Wing county today mailed to their checking account customers a letter explaining service and float charges to become effective March 1, 1931.

The main stipulations are these: Where there is more than three checks written during a month a service charge of 50 cents will apply to accounts under $50.

No service charge will be made on accounts where a balance of $50 is maintained.

No service charge will be made on accounts with small balances unless more than three checks are charged to the account in a month.

No float charges are made where checks are drawn on any bank in Crow Wing county.

A float charge will be made on all checks and drafts collectible through the Federal Reserve Bank as follows:

On all items of $25 or under, 5c.

On all items over $25 and up to $100, 10c.

On all items over $100 and up to $200, 15c.

On items over $200, charges will be made according to the time it takes to collect.

This plan, widely used by banks throughout the country was primarily adopted to offset the tremendous loss and cost in collecting foreign checks outside the county.

No charge on bank drafts on Twin City and Duluth banks will be made.

No service charge on savings account or float charges deposited in that account unless withdrawn within 90 days.

Mrs. Z. Fremling is Pleasantly Surprised on Her 64th Birthday

Mrs. Z. Fremling, 1311 Rosewood street, was pleasantly surprised Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Jokela, 1717 Norwood street, when eight of her sons and daughters and their families met to celebrate her 64th birthday anniversary.

A supper was served at 6:30 o'clock, followed by a social evening.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Hill (daughter), Mrs. Hilda Ritari (daughter), Mr. and Mrs. Mal Bloomstrom (daughter), Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Jokela (daughter), Louis Fremling (son), Mr. and Mrs. Z. Fremling, and Mr. and Mrs. S. BETHANY CHURCH GOERS INCREASE

Rev. E. G. Dahlin's Subject Tonight—"Ashamed of the Gospel? No!"

The meetings at the Swedish Bethany church grow in interest and attendance, also, a good, open and receptive spirit prevails.

Last evening the speaker, Rev. E. G. Dahlin was greeted with a larger audience than the previous evening.

Tonight he will have for his subject—"Ashamed of the Gospel? No!" The song service will start at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Dahlin dwelt on the thought of revival in his Tuesday evening sermon. He said the word "revive" can be applied to the material world as well as the spiritual—its meaning being to restore, to bring back to the former state.

"We need a revival in the industrial and business life right now. But above all we need a revival back to the old time religion," the speaker said.

Last evening Rev. Dahlin reviewed the early history of the spread of religion and the teachings of Christ to all nations.

Two Hostesses

Entertain at Shower for Bride of March

Mrs. John Gibson and Mrs. Norma Gibson entertained at a shower for Miss Wilma Hradsky, a bride of next month, at the home of the former at Parkerville on Wednesday evening, February 25.

After the guests had arrived, little Betty Mathis made the presentation in behalf of the parents of the Gordon school, of which Miss Hradsky is teacher, and in her sweet childish way lead the guest of honor to the dining room where a table, decorated with bells and streamers was laden with gifts for the bride-to-be.

There is an old saying that "it never rains but what it pours," and this proved true last evening. Just after Miss Hradsky had unwrapped her gifts and expressed her thanks to everyone, Carl Lovsted entered with a package which he presented to Mrs. John Gibson. This proved to be a lovely hand painted tent, presented in behalf of the members of the Gilbert Lake 4-H club, of which Mrs. Gibson was leader for the past year.

Games were enjoyed until a late hour, and refreshments were then served by the hostesses. The guests then departed after wishing Miss Hradsky much happiness in the coming years. Her marriage to Earl Wagner of Northeast Brainerd will take place in March.

Warm Springs in County

ONE of the most remarkable discoveries made in years has been recorded in upper Crow Wing county, claims being made that warm springs have been discovered which feed a creek six feet wide and several feet in depth, the warm water in turn entering a small lake.

At the lake at all times of the year, even in the coldest winter, one finds open water and pike and pickerel and other fish sporting themselves. There are rushes and reeds in abundance and food enough to sustain the numerous birds and animals that make this their feeding grounds. Ducks fly about. Frogs croak and the whole scene reminds one of the later summer denizens. Beyond this primeval, ideal spot one finds in winter the usual snow and ice.

The whole thing looks uncanny. It reminds one of the Alaskan legend of old that somewhere in the broad domains of the north are also warm springs in abundance and close at hand feeding grounds for elk, deer, caribou, moose and the other northern animals which make their annual treks. Somewhere, as maintained by the Indians, there was a place of shelter from the winter cold where the animals subsisted until spring came again.

On a small scale there may be a reproduction of such a natural refuge for fish and game in the dense undergrowth and wilds of certain sections of northern Crow Wing county, unexplored except by this Brainerd party.

Postal Workers Get 44-Hour Week

EFFECTIVE July 1 postal workers will go on a 44-hour week. Postmaster Carl Adams is anxious to know the sentiment of business men regarding Saturday afternoon mail deliveries. If these deliveries are to be continued, there must be an increase in the budget of the local postoffice for the July quarter and definite action must be taken before April 1.

With deliveries continued, it will become necessary to get extra help. Substitute carriers must be employed to make the deliveries. A prompt expression of opinion will enable the postmaster to arrive at conclusions and to make provision in advance.

MINNESOTA motorists are not allowed to deduct gasoline taxes when filing their income tax returns for 1931. J. R. Knox, assistant collector of revenue, has announced. The reason is that the oil companies, not the motorists, pay the three-cent state tax and for that reason are entitled to the reductions on their federal tax. The state tax is deducted and paid by the oil companies when the gasoline enters the state. The companies, not the consumers, pay this tax.

THOSE who saw the Gophers play the Wildcats last Monday at the University Field House observed a Northwestern basketball team that functioned almost perfectly. Minnesota missed one shot after another, but tried hard to win. "Pounding hearts," as Coach McMillan might say, interfered with the shooting eye of the Gophers. Playing Ohio State so recently, coupled with extensive traveling, may have tended to let down Gopher morale.

SMILES cost so little to give and yet have a priceless value. They illuminate the pathway of human life and bring happiness in their train.

NEW MARK IN HIGH HURDLES

8.5 SECONDS FOR 70 YARDS IN INDOOR COMPETITION, NEW YORK CITY

ALABAMA POLY STUDENT NOW DESTINED AS OLYMPIC CONTENDER

By L. S. CAMERON
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 26.—Percy Beard, who studies at Alabama Poly down in Auburn, Ala., and who runs over hurdles in his spare time, was in the ranks of U. S. Olympic team contenders today. He set a new world's indoor record in the 70-yard high hurdles in winning the National A. A. U. championships here last night.

Beard's record-breaking time was 8.5 seconds, just one-tenth of a second faster than the old mark held by three hurdles.

The A. A. U. championships continued a definitely large evening for the Alabama speedster for he twice equalled the 8.6 mark, both in his first heat and in the semi-finals.

The A. A. U. championships, banner event of the winter track and field season, contained many a scintillating performance.

By far the most thrilling event of the evening was a two-man race. The contestants were William Carr of the University of Penn and John M. Lewis of Detroit City College. They ran a dead heat in the 300-yard event in which Lewis was defending the championship he won in 1930. They were instructed to rest and then were matched in a dual.

This dual was the final contest of the evening. The great oval in Madison Square Garden was cleared of the dozens of officials and athletes. Johnny McHugh, veteran starter, cracked his pistol. Carr went a stride into the lead from the start. At every straightaway Lewis tried to pass, but Carr held him off at the banked turns.

Carr led all the way. In the last 20 feet, Lewis realized his title was lost, and coasted to the tape.

The championships provided another triumph for Ray Conger, veteran Illinois A. C. distance star who is probably the best-loved track man in competition today. Conger won the 1,000-yard event in the creditable time of 2:14.41. Apparently destined for third place or worse, Conger put on one of his famous "kicks" which brought him from the back up past Paul Keller of France and, in a final push, past the leader, George Bullwinkle of C. C. N. Y., to win by inches.

Gave Name to University

Howard university at Washington, important negro college, was named for O. O. Howard, a native of Maine, a brigadier general and corps commander in the Union army in the Civil war and in subsequent Indian wars. He was commissioner of the Freedmen's bureau in reconstruction days and was noted for his interest in the elevation of the colored race. He was a leading donor of the university's endowment.

RANGERS NOW ARE UNKNOWN QUANTITY BECAUSE OF SLUMP

SPECTACULAR CLASH IS SURE, HOWEVER, WHEN RANGERS MEET BRAINERD

BRAINERD'S COME-UP IN MONTH GIVES HOME TEAM ADVANTAGE TOMORROW

Will Crosby-Ironton's slump of the past two weeks follow the Rangers to Brainerd Friday night?

And what is this about a Crosby-Ironton team hitting its poorest stride of the year and being actually worried and depressed?

Fans will jam the high school gymnasium Friday evening to see what Coach Woodcock's men look like so near the district tournament and these questions will be answered realistically at that time.

Crosby-Ironton has slumped noticeably. Is it because that each team must undergo a slump once a year, and rather that slump now than in tournament time? Or is it really a fact that Crosby-Ironton has reached its peak of the season, cannot go any farther, while other teams in the district are actually fast improving to strong quintets?

Early in the season the Rangers handed Brainerd high school quite a drubbing.

That defeat made Brainerd and the coach realize that a big improvement would be necessary before the teams meet again.

Coach Bill Dammann has brought about that improvement, has made a fine record and the team has enjoyed a successful season to date. Staples, Wadena, Aitkin and Little Falls fell before them, and now they point to win from C.I.

After the Brainerd victory Crosby-Ironton continued to win but in each game the margin of points lessened. Aitkin gave them a bad scare, Little Falls was tough opposition and then Staples beat them by four points. Crosby-Ironton, rated earlier in the season as more formidable opponents than St. Cloud-Tech, was only able to nose out a one-point victory over Tech in an overtime battle.

There were excuses, of course, in the Aitkin and Staples games. Woodcock tried out his reserve material but the games only proved that Crosby-Ironton is not as strong this season as would be imagined from past season records when the Rangers presented the strongest threat in the district for the championship.

The game Friday evening will be an exciting clash.

On the basis of Brainerd's remarkable improvement in the last month, the home towners should win.

Gerry Wygle, the big Brainerd center, will be handicapped by a lame ankle, but he is expected to be in the line-up. He received the injury in the Little Falls game here but is progressing well.

Coach Dammann will again feature his first string men in Bob Wygle and Elmer Foster at forwards. Gerry Wygle at center and Selucy and Marshall at guards.

Coach Woodcock will send on the floor Keller and Petrabor, forwards; Perpick, center, and Dobravich and Olson, guards.

The effect of the game on the tournament outcome will be serious, particularly to Crosby.

If defeated by Brainerd the Rangers will enter the tournament lacking confidence while Brainerd will fight all the harder for a chance at the championship in the finals.

The tournament will be evenly matched this season, more so than in former seasons.

Brainerd had tough sledding last year to reach the finals, having to battle Little Falls and Staples in turn before meeting Crosby-Ironton in the finals, which went into overtime play with Crosby winning.

Crosby had relatively easy sailing to the finals last year, disposing of Aitkin and Wadena without trouble.

Crosby must meet the same two teams again this year to reach the finals, and Brainerd likewise will meet the same teams it played last year in order to go to the finals.

Aitkin and Wadena will give Crosby-Ironton plenty of worry this year and if either the teams go hot while Crosby has a slump, it's goodbye Crosby.

Likewise may be true also for Brainerd since such opposition as Staples and Little Falls cannot be considered but in the light of strong competition.

It's to be a merry race all around and because of the intense interest which has sprung up, each of the schools in the district will have scouting delegations to Brainerd to grab the dope on Brainerd and Crosby.

If Crosby's long distance aerial attack fails to function tomorrow night, then it's Brainerd's game. Dobravich, Crosby center, shot 'em in regularly from long range in the former clash of the two teams and contributed largely to Brainerd's defeat by sinking five field goals.

A win for Brainerd will establish this city as the strongest contender for the championship.

Extra seats will be put up for the game. It should attract a near capacity house.

Minneapolis, Feb. 26.—(U.P.)—Minneapolis police were asked today to search for Pearl De Sota, 17, who disappeared Tuesday, her mother reported, with Gunnard Sjodahl, a former convict.

The mother, Mrs. Daisy Doege, said that Sjodahl came to her home Tuesday afternoon and struck her when she refused to allow him to see Pearl. Later, she said, he returned while she was away and Pearl left with him in an automobile.

"FOREST LOVE" by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

Nancy Hollenbeck, is the young and beautiful daughter of a poor but socially accepted family. She is warned by her mother against marrying poverty. Nancy, becoming cynical, gives up handsome Mat Tully and begins an affair with Jack Beamer, married to wealth. Jack plans to divorce his wife and marry Nancy. On a trip to Yellowstone, Nancy meets Roger Decatur, a ranger. The Porters, rich but dull relatives, arrive. Nancy plans to use them as chaperones on a mountain trip to meet Roger. He appears the first night. The Porters are not pleased. Nancy and Roger take long rides over the mountain trails.

CHAPTER XV.

"DARN it all, I wish you weren't engaged!" He broke out viciously when they stood at the rise of a little hill to watch the moon rise beyond the mountains.

"Darling, this is so sudden!" Nancy gurgled, but a little pulse began to beat in her throat. She had been right then . . . he DID like her.

"Oh, well, you know what I mean," but he laughed a little, "mean."

That was her clue to shift the conversation adroitly back to safer things. She could do it so easily . . . experienced Nancy. . . She had managed so beautifully with Mat Tully, with amorous and impetuous college boys before him. But a little devil inside her ruled otherwise now.

"You wouldn't have me on a date, I'm frivolous and selfish and extravagant. I like breakfast in bed and silk comforters and charge accounts. And French perfume and gold fitted over-night bags and—"

"You only think you do."

"Well, I'm going to have them!" she countered hastily. The look on his lean brown face, thin and pale as the unearthly light of an immense moon, frightened her. The miserable pulse in her throat beat louder.

"Rather have them than love?" He asked it quizzically, with amused tolerance, the way grown-ups ask children. "Rather be a policeman than a lawyer like your dad?" But she could feel his tenseness, his nearness. The darkness seemed to be closing in on her, creeping up of the dark lumps of trees, rising up from the meadows, blotting out the light, the old familiar landmarks, the old thoughts . . . wants.

In the Background

Breakfast in bed . . . silk comforters . . . fitted over-night bags . . . You couldn't make them seem necessary, dignified, even desirable with that big gold moon so close, and the mountains so tall here on the top of the world. Nancy fought with an insane desire to cry, and laughed rather shakily instead. "Why not? You'd have them after the love part was over."

"So you think 'the love part' doesn't last very long?"

"Not very."

He chuckled then. "What a lot of bum novels you've been reading." A long, khaki-clad arm stole around her, his laughing face was coming nearer to hers. In a moment she would be in his arms and he would be kissing her for the first time. "Nancy, honey, you're just a funny baby that hasn't waked up. . . Don't be scared. . . look at me, honey. Look at me and tell me you think 'the love part' doesn't amount to much."

"Nancy."

She took his kisses on the top of her head. Wriggled like an eel out of his encircling arms.

"Don't be scared—look at me, honey"

"Roger, please don't. Please! Please!" And because her bones were jelly and her foolish nose doubled up she sat down in the middle of the dusty road and laughed and laughed.

"Ooh, Roger! You've got such a way with you, you make my fool heart go pitter-patter. And me, betrothed to another, you ought to be ashamed, honest! You old heartbreaker—pull me up!"

"Idiot!" he said, tenderly. His big, clean handkerchief brushed her off; he even got down on his knees, and dived her inadequate, high-heeled slippers. "Crazy things to walk in. Haven't you any sense at all?"

"No, Sir Raleigh!"

Surface Gayety

She laughed all the way back to the camp. The lilting, gurgling small girl laugh that was one of the most enchanting things about her. But it was just crazy surface gayety. Her knees were still weak and she kept her eyes glued on the little bobbing circle of light that was Roger's flash. For the first time in her life Nancy Hollenbeck was afraid of the dark.

She wanted lights and people . . . lots of people . . . lots of noise . . . The silence terrified her. The dark mocked her. It walked with her, pressing closer and closer, as if it were some animate thing jeering . . . trying to jostle her into Roger's arms . . .

Mr. Porter had the road map out. He studied it at breakfast, replying to Mrs. Porter's nervous questioning with absent "Mmms" and an occasional, "So . . . so . . ."

Planning to leave at once. . . Nancy had suspected it from the moment she waked and saw Elsie and Gladys dressing themselves in neat, serviceable navy blues. Now she was sure of it. Well, she did not care, particularly. Roger would catch up to them in a few days at Tahoe, and a few days' absence wouldn't do her any harm.

It will give me a chance to calm down," she thought, staring at her plate, forgetting to eat. "And I'll make up to the Porter girls for neglecting them so much."

I haven't been very decent to them. I'll write a long letter to mama, too, and send her some of the pictures Roger gave me. . . And to Lou and Jack. Jack will be worried. . . I shouldn't have let so much time go by without writing. . .

"Oh, Nancy." Mrs. Porter was trying to be casual and friendly and looking excited and vindictive instead. "Nancy, the climate here don't seem to agree much with Mr. Porter. It isn't a very nice crowd either for the girls. I won't let them have anything to do with the guides and rangers naturally. . . (oh, how she rolled her long pink tongue over that!) "So we are going on to Tahoe in a couple of hours."

Not Wanted

Nancy roused herself with a real effort. "Tahoe! We'll like it much better, I'm sure. Everyone says the hotels are marvelous, and the lake is—"

Mrs. Porter's broad expanse of bosom heaved. She flushed a darker shade of purplish red, but she interrupted firmly: "So long as we don't know how long we'll stay on account of Mr. Porter's health and all, and dear Mrs. Watson waiting for you at the Awahnee, we won't ask you to come on with us. The stage leaves at noon, so you'll only have a couple of hours here alone. You'll have a nice ride, and Mr. Porter will tip the driver well—"

"You are very kind," Nancy said. She smiled on them all dazingly. "How can I ever thank you for this wonderful trip?"

Mr. Porter weakened. He looked at his wife for permission to speak, but she settled that quickly. "You can tell the man to put some of the suitcases in the back seat, Herman. Without Miss Hollenbeck in there we'll have more room."

Nancy did all her packing in a few wide swags, tumbling shoes, riding skirts and crased crepe de chine into bags with an abandon that soothed her. Nearly everything was ruined anyway. She had walked on rocky roads with frail kid slippers, sat on damp, grassy banks in delicate silks, snagged all her chiffon stockings with regal indifference. All to impress Roger Decatur.

"Well, I succeeded, anyway," she reflected with a certain mournful happiness, stuffing the wrack of the blue organdie into a chink beside a muddy riding boot. "He's in love with me. It's anyone's guess. And I'm in love with him. Might as well admit it. One more romantic it-might-have-been to cheer me up when I'm an old lady waiting for the butler to bring me my tea. Which is a whole lot better than making your own tea!"

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Warm Springs in County

ONE of the most remarkable discoveries made in years has been recorded in upper Crow Wing county, claims being made that warm springs have been discovered which feed a creek six feet wide and several feet in depth, the warm water in turn entering a small lake.

At the lake at all times of the year, even in the coldest winter, one finds open water and pike and pickerel and other fish sporting themselves. There are rushes and reeds in abundance and food enough to sustain the numerous birds and animals that make this their feeding grounds. Ducks fly about. Frogs croak and the whole scene reminds one of the later summer denizens. Beyond this primeval, ideal spot one finds in winter the usual snow and ice.

The whole thing looks uncanny. It reminds one of the Alaskan legend of old that somewhere in the broad domains of the north are also warm springs in abundance and close at hand feeding grounds for elk, deer, caribou, moose and the other northern animals which make their annual treks. Somewhere, as maintained by the Indians, there was a place of shelter from the winter cold where the animals subsisted until spring came again.

On a small scale there may be a reproduction of such a natural refuge for fish and game in the dense undergrowth and wilds of certain sections of northern Crow Wing county, unexplored except by this Brainerd party.

Postal Workers Get 44-Hour Week

EFFECTIVE July 1 postal workers will go on a 44-hour week. Postmaster Carl Adams is anxious to know the sentiment of business men regarding Saturday afternoon mail deliveries. If these deliveries are to be continued, there must be an increase in the budget of the local postoffice for the July quarter and definite action must be taken before April 1.

With deliveries continued, it will become necessary to get extra help. Substitute carriers must be employed to make the deliveries. A prompt expression of opinion will enable the postmaster to arrive at conclusions and to make provision in advance.

MINNESOTA motorists are not allowed to deduct gasoline taxes when filing their income tax returns for 1931. J. R. Knox, assistant collector of revenue, has announced. The reason is that the oil companies, not the motorists, pay the three-cent state tax and for that reason are entitled to the reductions on their federal tax. The state tax is deducted and paid by the oil companies when the gasoline enters the state. The companies, not the consumers, pay this tax.

THOSE who saw the Gophers play the Wildcats last Monday at the University Field House observed a Northwestern basketball team that functioned almost perfectly. Minnesota missed one shot after another, but tried hard to win. "Pounding hearts," as Coach McMillan might say, interfered with the shooting eye of the Gophers. Playing Ohio State so recently, coupled with extensive traveling, may have tended to let down Gopher morale.

SMILES cost so little to give and yet have a priceless value. They illuminate the pathway of human life and bring happiness in their train.

BEARD SETS NEW MARK IN HIGH HURDLES

8.5 SECONDS FOR 70 YARDS IN INDOOR COMPETITION, NEW YORK CITY

ALABAMA POLY STUDENT NOW DESTINED AS OLYMPIC CONTENDER

By L. S. CAMERON
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 26.—Percy Beard, who studies at Alabama Poly down in Auburn, Ala., and who runs over hurdles in his spare time, was in the ranks of U. S. Olympic team contenders today. He set a new world's indoor record in the 70-yard high hurdles in winning the National A. A. U. championships here last night.

Beard's record-breaking time was 8.5 seconds, just one-tenth of a second faster than the old mark held by three hurdlers.

The A. A. U. championships continued a definitely large evening for the Alabama speedster for he twice equalled the 8.6 mark, both in his first heat and in the semi-finals.

The A. A. U. championships, banner event of the winter track and field season, contained many a scintillating performance.

By far the most thrilling event of the evening was a two-man race. The contestants were William Carr of the University of Penn and John M. Lewis of Detroit City College. They ran a dead heat in the 300-yard event in which Lewis was defending the championship he won in 1930. They were instructed to race and then were matched in a dual.

This dual was the final contest of the evening. The great oval in Madison Square Garden was cleared of the dozens of officials and athletes. Johnny McHugh, veteran starter, cranked his pistol. Carr went a stride into the lead from the start. At every straightaway Lewis tried to pass, but Carr held him off at the banked turns.

Carr led all the way. In the last 20 feet, Lewis realized his title was lost and coasted to the tape.

The championships provided another triumph for Ray Conger, veteran Illinois A. C. distance star who is probably the best-loved track man in competition today. Conger won the 1,000-yard event in the creditable time of 2:14.41. Apparently destined for third place or worse, Conger put on one of his famous "kicks" which brought him from the back up past Paul Keller of France and, in a final push, past the leader, George Bullwinkle of C. C. N. Y., to win by inches.

RANGERS NOW ARE UNKNOWN QUANTITY BECAUSE OF SLUMP

SPECTACULAR CLASH IS SURE, HOWEVER, WHEN RANGERS MEET BRAINERD

BRAINERD'S COME-UP IN MONTH GIVES HOME TEAM ADVANTAGE TOMORROW

Will Crosby-Ironton's slump of the past two weeks follow the Rangers to Brainerd Friday night?

And what is this about a Crosby-Ironton team hitting its poorest stride of the year and being actually worried and depressed?

"No, Sir Raleigh!"

Surface Gayety

She laughed all the way back to the camp. The tilting, gurgling small girl laugh that was one of the most enchanting things about her. But it was just a crazy surface gayety. Her knees were still weak and she kept her eyes glued on the little bobbing circle of light that was Roger's flash. For the first time in her life Nancy Hollenbeck was afraid of the dark.

She wanted lights and people . . . lots of people . . . lots of noise . . . The silence terrified her. The dark mocked her. It walked with her, pressing closer and closer, as if it were some animate thing peering . . . trying to jostle her into Roger's arms . . .

Mr. Porter had the road map out. He studied it at breakfast, replying to Mrs. Porter's nervous questioning with absent "Mmms" and an occasional, "So . . . so . . ."

Planning to leave at once . . . Nancy had suspected it from the moment she waked and saw Elsie and Gladys dressing themselves in neat, serviceable navy blues. Now she was sure of it. Well, she did not care, particularly. Roger would catch up to them in a few days at Tahoe, and a few days' absence wouldn't do her any harm.

"It will give me a chance to calm down," she thought, staring at her plate, forgetting to eat.

"And I'll make up to the Porter girls for neglecting them so much. . . I haven't been very decent to them. I'll write a long letter to mama, too, and send her some of the pictures Roger gave me. . . And to Lou and Jack. Jack will be worried. . . I shouldn't have let so much time go by without writing."

"Oh, Nancy," Mrs. Porter was trying to be casual and friendly and looking excited and vindictive instead. "Nancy, the climate here don't seem to agree much with Mr. Porter. It isn't a very nice crowd, either for the girls. I won't let them have anything to do with the guides and rangers naturally—" (oh, how she rolled her long pink tongue over that!) "So we are going on to Tahoe in a couple of hours—"

Not Wanted

Nancy roused herself with a real effort. "Tahoe! We'll like it much better, I'm sure. Everyone says the hotels are marvelous, and the lake is—"

Mrs. Porter's broad expanse of bosom heaved. She flushed a darker shade of purplish red, but she interrupted firmly: "So long as we don't know how long we'll stay on account of Mr. Porter's health and all, and dear Mrs. Watson waiting for you at the Awahnee, we won't ask you to come on with us. The stage leaves at noon, so you'll only have a couple of hours here alone. You'll have a nice ride, and Mr. Porter will tip the driver well—"

"You are very kind," Nancy said. She smiled on them all dazingly. "How can I ever thank you for this wonderful trip?"

Mr. Porter weakened. He looked at his wife for permission to speak, but she settled that quickly. "You can tell the man to put some of the suitcases in the back seat, Herman. Without Miss Hollenbeck in there we'll have more room."

Nancy did all her packing in a few wide sweeps, tumbling shoes, riding skirts and crossed crepe de chine into bags with an abandon that soothed her. Nearly everything was ruined anyway. She had walked on rocky roads with frail kid slippers, sat on damp, grassy banks in delicate silks, snagged all her chiffon stockings with real indifference. All to impress Roger Decatur.

"Well, I succeeded, anyway," she reflected with a certain mournful happiness, stuffing the wreck of the blue organdy into a chink beside a muddy riding boot. "He's in love with me! It anyone ever was. And I'm in love with him. Might as well admit it. One more romantic it-might-have-been to cheer me up when I'm an old lady waiting for the butler to bring me my tea. Which is a whole lot better than making your own tea!"

COLDS MAY DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

FIRE HAZARD IN DISTRICT LOOMS

Peat and Meadow Fires Reported;
Rain Shortage Forecasts
Spring Fires

With a shortage of between eight and ten inches of rain fall during the past year and very little snow during the winter months, the northern part of the state is facing the prospect of one of the most serious spring fire seasons, which there has been for a number of years.

Peat Fires Burn

Although it is now from four to six weeks earlier than spring fires usually occur, the Forestry Department has already received numerous reports of meadow fires in the south part of the district, on which it was necessary to send out men to protect hay stacks and in some instances meadow fires have caught and are still burning in the peat. The local ranger has received word that no money shall be spent fighting peat fires at the present time, on account of the shortage of funds. He hopes that enough rain or snow to extinguish them might fall before the hazard of spreading becomes too great.

Check Burned Areas

With just enough snow left in the woods to make it safe to burn by using a little precaution in the more open places, scores of loggers and farmers are availing themselves of the opportunity to burn old slash which has been piled, ready for burning, while others are getting, all necessary burning done on meadows while ground is still frozen and there is less danger of fire catching in the peat. Meadows should be gone over, however, immediately after burning them off to see that fire has not caught in old tamarack stumps where it will follow down into the dry peat.

It should be remembered that as soon as fires begin to run in the woods, additional rangers and patrolmen are placed on field duty and with all township fire wardens in the district, are instructed to check up on all unauthorized burning, to see that the proper permit for burning has been obtained, that fresh fire-break has been made or that no fires have been left unattended or unextinguished.

"Let us all see that any necessary burning is done as early as possible so as to eliminate as far as possible the destructive late spring fires," E. H. Rhodes, district ranger at Brainerd, urged today.

OH THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

Copyright 1931, King Features
Syndicate, Inc.

A brave little soul in Illinois writes me that while the place for women is at home, making a husband and a family happy, she thinks there are instances where the wife would be a pretty poor sort of helpmate if she didn't get out and help shoulder a burden that is too big for the man to carry alone.

"Having a job," she says, "means that a man has to have at least six hours work a day if a family is to live." She has been married two years and there is a year-old baby. They are very much in love, the letter shows that even if she hadn't said so. Her husband lost his position and started in business but failed. They didn't know where they would get the next month's rent, so she got a position as public stenographer.

"I'm not even getting $100 a month," she explains, "but I will get it later. I feel certain I am doing right. It's a little hard I admit. I arise early, get the baby bathed, make breakfast at grandmother's for the baby, tidy the house, prepare vegetables for dinner, then the 5 o'clock whistle at evening, rush to get the baby, hurry home to start dinner, get the baby her dinner, put her to bed, get our dinner (my husband helping), wash the dishes, then turn on the radio and literally drop on the couch—exhausted. Sometimes, I'm very tired but we both have a sense of humor and we laugh it off."

Speaking of good soldiers, what do you think of this wife?

"I don't intend to keep this up forever, but we couldn't get by if I didn't help now. I do it out of love for my husband and there is no lack of appreciation on his part. I don't think of clothes, just of getting the right kind of food for us all and comfortable living conditions. We see a movie now and then. Don't you think under the circumstances I'm justified in working?"

Yes, I do. But I fear you don't, for you wouldn't have raised the question. Perhaps you only fear that your husband might get used to your contribution and be slack in his efforts? In an emergency I think it's a poor wife who won't put her shoulder to the wheel and push, too, with all her might. I admire you for your cheerful efforts.

She thinks there are still people who will have something to say about her working but as long as they love each other, she doesn't care.

That's the spirit! But don't let your good nature and your anxiety to make life easier for him ruin your home. Men are easily spoiled. After you give him a little shove, and a lift and a push and a cheerful word of encouragement, stop and take care of your baby and your home. Make him know that your efforts are temporary or he will lose his sense of responsibility. I've seen that happen often.

He is willing to do housework to help you and I see no reason why your efforts at business aren't entirely right and they show good sportsmanship. But don't get more interested in business than the home and the baby and don't work any longer than you have to. Think of it as temporary.

I'm one of those strange people who believe that babies are the most important factor in the life of any couple and that they are entitled to care and love from the parents. Relatives are well meaning, but a baby needs its mother if she is even a half way right kind of mother.

Good luck to you and a short business career.

BRAINERD 25 Years Ago

February 26, 1906

H. F. Michael and Miss Fuller, who spent the past week in Chicago in the interests of the H. F. Michael Company store, returned home this morning.

Mrs. Bridget O'Brien of Berlin, Wis., mother of Mayor Con O'Brien and P. D. O'Brien, passed away Saturday at her home. She was 84 years of age.

Mrs. J. A. Thabes will entertain a large company of young ladies this evening at her home.

Miss Ella Parker returned from Minneapolis this afternoon where she attended the Sarah Bernhardt performances.

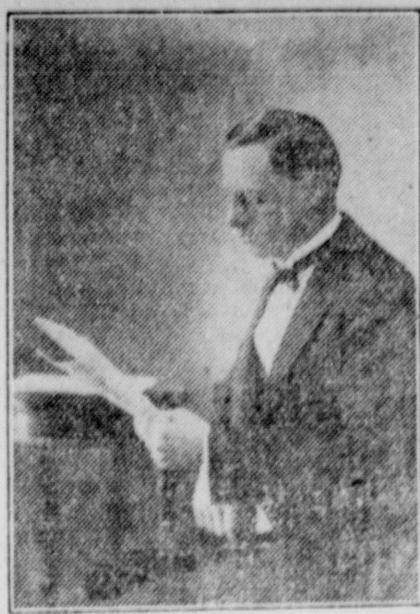

Bishop Morrison of Duluth was in the city yesterday and officiated at confirmation services at St. Paul's church.

Judge S. F. Alderman left for Walker this afternoon on business.

At the Ladies Musical club meeting Saturday afternoon, Mrs. H. F. Michael gave a sketch of Chopin, Miss Lottie White played a piano solo and sang a vocal solo, Miss Knowles gave Current Events, Miss Jennie Mysen gave a piano solo and Miss Anderson singing "Goodbye Sweet Day."

Mrs. Rose Ransom, 51, died last night at her home in East Brainerd after several months illness.

Miss E. S. Mathewson has returned from Fargo and will again take a position in the schools as teacher, succeeding Miss Skiles who recently resigned.

Prof. H. W. Monson

The Concordia choir will appear in a concert at Staples on Friday evening, February 27, at 8 o'clock at the high school auditorium, the concert being sponsored by the public schools of Staples.

H. W. Monson is the director, and the choir will render two of his compositions.

Dr. C. E. Anderson of the city has a sister who is a member of the Concordia faculty.

THEATRE TRAINING ASSET TO EMPLOYEE

K. G. Schultz Tells of Advantages Youth Has in Theatre Training Courses

Theatre training as provided by Public theatres not only benefits an employee but can also be used to his advantage in any other business in which contact with the general public is involved, K. G. Schultz, assistant manager of the Brainerd Paramount theatre told the Brainerd Lions club at dinner last evening as he outlined the various steps of organization connected with what he termed "the front house operation."

Each employee in a Public theatre is trained from the ground up to make of him a courteous, well groomed business like attendant, one who has the thought and care of the patron in his manner at all times, Mr. Schultz related.

The capacities of the managerial and the house or service staff were explained in detail, the business of each and the training each required.

Schools for beginners are necessary before a new employee can welcome a guest and to maintain the efficiency created from the start a school of instruction is conducted weekly to instill the teachings in the minds of the employees and to present new ideas to them.

Instructions include mechanical functioning of a theatre also, that of ventilation, lighting, maintenance, projecting, advertising and business ethics.

He pointed out that primarily the employee is taught to sell himself to the public and in that way he is capable of selling merchandise to the public.

"Such a training is a strong asset to the employee should he enter other business than of the theatre. We have had many men leave the theatre business to step into high executive positions for the reason they can capably meet the public," Mr. Schultz said.

"Boys from smaller cities such as Brainerd have better advantages than in larger cities because of the fact that personal attention can be given them," he said.

AWARD BADGES TO THREE SCOUTS

Boy Scout Troop No. 43 of Northeast Brainerd Met at Lowell School Last Evening

Boy Scout Troop No. 43 of Northeast Brainerd held their regular meeting last evening at the Lowell school. Dr. A. K. Cohen, chairman of the Court of Honor, Laurence Ericsson, scout commissioner and Albert O. Anderson were in attendance and acted as members of a Court of Honor to award second class badges to three scouts—William Huseby, Theodore Lind and Clyde Anderson. These boys should have received their badges at the recent Court of Honor held at the Congregational church, but it was unavoidably delayed.

The meeting last evening was attended by a large number of parents and friends of the boys, showing their interest in scouting. Three patrols of the troop, the Bear Patrol, Crow Patrol and Bloodhound Patrol staged a contest. First prize was awarded the Bear patrol, and the losing patrols will now entertain the winners and the other members of the troop at a coming meeting. One of the features of the winning patrol was a saw solo by Dudley Cook. Other entertainment included recitations on scouting requirements, readings, stories, riddles and bucking contests.

Following the boy's contest, the officers of the troop, E. R. Fish, scoutmaster, Harold Strickler, Jack Doepke and Dick Kaatz put on a program of minstrel entertainment consisting of singing with guitar and piano accompaniment, musical numbers, jokes etc. Keen interest was taken in last evening's meeting, and all pronounced themselves as well pleased with the progress of the troop.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

38th Birthday Celebrated by Brotherhood of American Yeomen Last Evening

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen celebrated their 38th anniversary at the Moose hall last evening. Dancing and other entertainment was furnished during the evening, and an enjoyable time was spent by all.

For the next meeting of the Yeomen, set for March 12, an interesting program has been arranged. All members are asked to attend and make this session a success. A lunch will be served.

CROSS LAKE MAIL ROUTE EXTENSION

The Post Office Department has authorized the extension of Star route No. 41,328 out of Cross Lake to Mississippi River Bridge (no office) so as to end at Crosby, returning by way of Manganese and Wolford to Cross Lake.

This will give better mail facilities to patrons residing at Manganese and Wolford, which post offices were discontinued a few years ago.

The new service will become effective on March 1, 1931.

BRAINERD WINS TWO EVENTS

Bernice Steinfeldt Wins Dramatic, Elizabeth Irvine Humorous at Crosby District Meet

In the district declamatory contest held at Crosby last evening, Brainerd high school placed two firsts out of three entries.

Bernice Steinfeldt won the dramatic, Elizabeth Irvine the humorous. Aitkin won the oratorical, defeating Crosby and the Brainerd entry Stuart Patterson.

WILLIAM J. SWANSON IN ATTORNEY RACE

Drafts Petition This Afternoon and Will Circulate it Tomorrow

William J. Swanson, of the law firm of Swanson, Swanson and Swanson, today announced intentions of being a candidate for the office of city attorney at the April 7 election.

Mr. Swanson was drafting his petition this afternoon and planned to start its circulation for signers tomorrow.

The candidate is 31 years old and it is the first time he is seeking a public office. He was drafted as special municipal judge two years ago. He is a graduate of the Brainerd high school and a graduate of academic and law at the University of Minnesota. Mr. Swanson was born and raised in Brainerd and has practiced law five years.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all of our friends and neighbors for the kindness shown during our recent sad bereavement of losing our beloved wife and mother. We also want to thank those who sent the beautiful flowers and donated their cars and Mrs. N. A. Nelson for singing those beautiful hymns.

JAMES SMITH, and family.

TWO YOUTHS HELD ON THEFT COUNTS

Accused of Robbing a Bachelor at Crosby of $35 and a Revolver

Two youths, one a minor, who face charges of entering the home of a bachelor, Rod Sandich, at Crosby, and stealing $35 and a revolver were lodged in the county jail today awaiting hearings.

The Crosby boys were arrested by deputy sheriffs. The one will be brought before Judge L. B. Kinder in juvenile court, the other to be taken before Judge J. H. Warner in municipal court.

Shell's reduced motor oil price

first step in broad economy program for motorists

SHELL MOTOR OIL, the highest quality lubricant any car can use, has been reduced from 30 cents to 25 cents per quart. Increased volume and lower refining costs have made possible this price reduction.

This is the first step in a new program of vital interest to every motorist. In the next few weeks Shell will make available to you other important economies affecting the cost of operating your car.

Shell Motor Oil, now only 25 cents per quart, is premium grade oil. It is made from the choicest crudes... Refined by the most modern methods...

From it you get the same ease in starting and smooth performance, the same protection against repair bills as from the most costly oils.

Shell Motor Oil has a low "pour point" for freezing weather, and high heat resistance for torrid summers. Under the toughest jobs, it can't break down or lose its penetrating power. It forms only $\frac{1}{3}$ to $\frac{1}{5}$ as much carbon as the most expensive oils—and it forms no hard carbon at all.

Pay more than 25 cents per quart for oil if you wish, pay less if you want to take the chance. But the advice of Shell engineers who have tested every known brand of oil is this:

"Keep your car filled with the proper grade of Shell Motor Oil. Change it at the periods specified by the car manufacturer. You'll get all the fine engine-performance your car was built to give, at lowest possible cost, if you observe this simple care."

No Hard Carbon in Shell Motor Oil

The hard, flinty carbon left after burning a sample of an expensive motor oil. The amount of carbon formed was over 3 times that created by burning the same amount of Shell Motor Oil.

The carbon left after burning Shell Motor Oil. It is soft—will not cake like cement on your cylinder walls like the hard carbon formed by the oil at the top. And there is only $\frac{1}{3}$ as much of it.

AWARD BADGES TO THREE SCOUTS

Boy Scout Troop No. 43 of Northeast Brainerd Met at Lowell School Last Evening

Boy Scout Troop No. 43 of Northeast Brainerd held their regular meeting last evening at the Lowell school. Dr. A. K. Cohen, chairman of the Court of Honor, Laurence Ericsson, scout commissioner and Albert O. Anderson were in attendance and acted as members of a Court of Honor to award second class badges to three scouts—William Huseby, Theodore Lind and Clyde Anderson. These boys should have received their badges at the recent Court of Honor held at the Congregational church, but it was unavoidably delayed.

The meeting last evening was attended by a large number of parents and friends of the boys, showing their interest in scouting. Three patrols of the troop, the Bear Patrol, Crow Patrol and Bloodhound Patrol staged a contest. First prize was awarded the Bear patrol, and the losing patrols will now entertain the winners and the other members of the troop at a coming meeting. One of the features of the winning patrol was a saw solo by Dudley Cook. Other entertainment included recitations on scouting requirements, readings, stories, riddles and bucking contests.

Following the boy's contest, the officers of the troop, E. R. Fish, scoutmaster, Harold Strickler, Jack Doepeke and Dick Kaatz put on a program of minstrel entertainment consisting of singing with guitar and piano accompaniment, musical numbers, jokes etc. Keen interest was taken in last evening's meeting, and all pronounced themselves as well pleased with the progress of the troop.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

38th Birthday Celebrated by Brotherhood of American Yeomen Last Evening

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen celebrated their 38th anniversary at the Moose hall last evening. Dancing and other entertainment was furnished during the evening, and an enjoyable time was spent by all.

For the next meeting of the Yeomen, set for March 12, an interesting program has been arranged. All members are asked to attend and make this session a success. A lunch will be served.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us during the death of our wife and mother; also for the beautiful floral offerings.

D. H. FULLERTON SEEKS RE-ELECTION

City Attorney Has Petition Out With Record of 12 Years Back of Campaign

D. H. Fullerton, city attorney for the past 12 years, will seek reelection at the April 7 city election.

His petition was being circulated in his behalf today.

Mr. Fullerton is a graduate of the Brainerd high school and the law school of the University of Minnesota. He was raised in Brainerd.

CROSS LAKE MAIL ROUTE EXTENSION

The Post Office Department has authorized the extension of Star route No. 41,328 out of Cross Lake to Mississippi River Bridge (no office) so as to end at Crosby, returning by way of Manganese and Wolford to Cross Lake.

This will give better mail facilities to patrons residing at Manganese and Wolford, which post offices were discontinued a few years ago.

The new service will become effective on March 1, 1931.

BRAINERD WINS TWO EVENTS

Bernice Steinfeldt Wins Dramatic, Elizabeth Irvine Humorous at Crosby District Meet

In the district declamatory contest held at Crosby last evening, Brainerd high school placed two firsts out of three entries.

Bernice Steinfeldt won the dramatic, Elizabeth Irvine the humorous. Aitkin won the oratorical, defeating Crosby and the Brainerd entry Stuart Patterson.

CITATION FOR HEARING ON PETITION FOR ADMINISTRATION

No. 3509
State of Minnesota, County of Crow Wing, ss. in Probate Court.
In the Matter of the Estate of Charles V. Durham, Decedent.
The State of Minnesota to All Whom it May Concern:
WHEREAS, Martha Durham has filed in this court her petition stating among other things that she is surviving spouse of the above named decedent; that said decedent died intestate, a resident of the County of Crow Wing, State of Minnesota, left property in the County of Crow Wing, State of Minnesota, and was a citizen of the United States; and praying that administration of his estate be granted to said Martha Durham;
THEREFORE, You are hereby cited to be and appear before said court on the 23rd day of March, 1931, at ten o'clock A. M. in the Court House, in the City of Brainerd, in said County and State, and show cause, if any you have, why said petition should not be granted.
Dated February 21st, 1931.
F. E. EBNER, Probate Judge.
Attorney for Petitioner. 226137th
